DAVE MUTO MUSIC (PERSONAL SMALL BUSINESS)

2016-Present

- Teach guitar, bass, and piano to students through Manhattan, Queens, the Bronx, and Brooklyn, as well as people abroad
- Have taught over 100 students in my soon-to-be-four years of teaching
- Primarily teaching piano & guitar
- Able to teach any level of skill, from beginner to advance
- Able to teach how to read & write sheet music, how to compose, ear training, and general technique to help a student reach their personal goals

SERIOUS FUN AFTERSCHOOL

2017-Present

- Taught both theater & guitar classes at various schools around Queens & Manhattan
- Taught students how to hone their craft through carefully constructed lesson plans meant to help musically/artistically inclined students excel, and also help lesser-inclined students keep up.
- Kept students on a steady pace to prepare for two performances a year —one before winter break, and one before summer break.
- Currently staffed as a sub

NINO DE LA CARIDAD

2017-2019

- Taught three to four guitar classes a week at a non-profit in the Bronx.
- Students often did not have access to musical instruments at home, so crafted a curriculum meant to cater to those who couldn't practice, but wanted to learn.
- Interacted heavily with parents to keep them informed on what the children were learning, and, if they were interested, where they could obtain instruments so their children could practice at home.
